

Martin Escobar

Economist

Belgrano, Buenos Aires | martinescobar1475@gmail.com
+54 9 297 515 3196 | Linkedin | Github

About Me

My interests include aviation, football, World War II history and Formula 1. I enjoy organizing plans with friends around these shared activities. I'm looking forward to learning new skills and taking on new challenges.

Education

MSc. in Economics, UTDT [2024-Present]

BSc. in Economics, UTDT [2020-2023]

- Supported first-year students as part of the institutional mentoring initiative
- Thesis: Monetary policy in the presence of currency substitution

Experience

Teaching Assistant, UTDT [Mar'24-Present]

- Introductory Microeconomy and Introductory Macroeconomy
- Solved problem sets, prepped students for their exams

Research Assistant, CEPE, UTDT [Jun'24-Aug'24]

- Reduced code length from 3000 to 300 lines through optimization
- Reused the structure to conduct additional analyses with minimal changes
- Created tables and graphs

Skills

Programming Languages

- R, Python

Tools and Libraries

- Microsoft Office, SQL, Tableau, RStudio, ~~TeX~~

Relevant Courses

Data Processing in R [Coderhouse]

Data Analysis and Visualization, in SQL and Tableau [BSc.]

Machine Learning, in R

Macroeconomic and Financial Data Lab, in R and Python

Time Series [MSc.]

Panel Data

Languages

- Spanish, native
- English, bilingual with IGCSE certification